

I believe if a person has taken the time to enter their phone numbers onto the Do Not Call list, then they have a right to have those wishes respected and not be bothered by banks, credit card companies, cell phone providers, etc...Millions of Americans have signed up for the Do Not Call list because of the implication of the title "DO NOT CALL." Most people I know do not wish to be bothered with unsolicited calls, which is why so many of us have added our phone numbers to this list. Please respect our wishes and our privacy--don't try to pass a law allowing these types of calls because of a loophole. Thank you for your time, Jill John
